

TR TIGER CRUISE 2009

GENERAL SAFETY INFORMATION FOR VISITORS

The information in this pamphlet covers a broad spectrum of surface ship safety topics. It is intended to provide our visitors with little or no shipboard experience a basic overview of safety concerns they should be familiar with prior to embarkation.

Emergency Phone Numbers

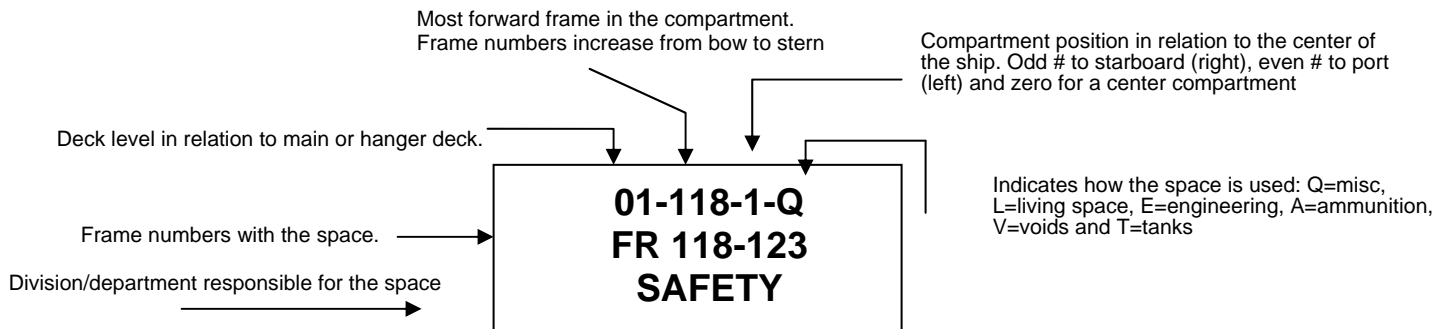

Fire/Flooding/Medical: 911

Damage Control Central: 7136/7 or 7143

Moving Around The Ship

Emergencies can happen while underway and might include a fire, flooding, or man overboard. The best thing to do is stay with your sponsor or assigned escort. It is important for you to know where you should go and what is expected of you in the event of real emergency. As a general rule when proceeding to your emergency station, traffic flow should be up and forward on the starboard (right) side, and down and aft on the port (left) side.

Designation signs are found on the bulkheads (walls). The signs are yellow glow in the dark color with black lettering and are commonly called a "Bulls-eye". Here is how to read and understand a "Bulls-eye":

General Safety Precautions

The following are basic safety requirements applicable to shipboard activities and/or equipment.

1. Locate and remember all exits from working and living spaces you will be frequently. Know an alternate route to get where you need to go in the event a passageway is secured.
2. Know the location of your Man Overboard, lifeboat and life raft stations and how to proceed to them from the living and working spaces you will frequent.
3. Make sure that all movable objects in your spaces are secured (e.g., attached to a solid object or in a closed locker or drawer). Please do not place objects on top of lockers or block aisles with your personal items.

4. Whenever practical, carry things in a manner that allows you to keep one hand free and never slide down inclined ladders.
5. Walk, don't run or horseplay, in passageways.
6. Eye hazard areas will be clearly marked with a CAUTION sign, and 3-inch black and yellow deck striping or tape.
7. Noise hazard areas will have a HAZARDOUS NOISE WARNING decal affixed at the entry to the effected space. The Safety Office and most workcenters can provide you with various types of earplugs.
8. Do not lean against, sit or stand on lifelines and life rails.
9. Never straddle or step over lines, wire, and chains under tension and stay clear of all areas in which equipment is being used.
10. Please open and close doors slowly. Use extreme caution if you climb through hatch/scuttles. Have your sponsor assist you.
11. Only wear portable stereo earphones while in your sleeping space.

Basic Flight Deck Safety Rules

1. Access to flight deck areas may be granted during non-flight operation periods. At all other times please remain off the catwalks and observe the ship's operations from the 08/09 level.
2. Please use extreme caution when walking on the flight deck or catwalk areas.

During Flight Deck Operations or Demonstrations on "Vulture's Row"

1. When observing flight operations or demonstrations please do not use flash video or photography equipment.
2. Hearing protection is required for viewing flight operations.
3. Do not wear ball caps, handbags or other items that may endanger other visitors or equipment.
